

The Law Firm of Maxwell C. LaFrance PLLC

HONOR IN PRACTICE
MMXX
A Veteran Owned Business

The Law Firm of Maxwell C. LaFrance PLLC, is a new solo-practitioner law firm that is looking to improve our community through policy development and conflict resolution. The Firm's motto is Honor in Practice, meaning to treat all persons with respect, and to uphold personal and professional ethics.

Attorney LaFrance has lifelong ties to the Meriden-Wallingford community, having graduated from H.C. Wilcox Technical High School. After attending Worcester Polytechnic Institute he went on to serve as an officer in the U.S. Navy for six years. He then returned to Connecticut and attended the UCONN School of Law, and received his law degree with a certificate in public policy.

Attorney LaFrance opened his own firm in 2020, in cooperation with the Connecticut Community Law Center (CCLC). Through the CCLC he accepts low to moderate income clients at a reduced rate who wouldn't qualify for free legal aid, but can't afford a market rate attorney. In addition to CCLC clients, the Firm is seeking individuals and small businesses who are in need of legal services. Groups that are looking to improve the community through policy development are also encouraged to contact the Firm.
