The 580+ businesses and organizations that are members of the Midstate Chamber of Commerce have chosen to set themselves apart from other businesses. Membership in central CT's most active chamber is the difference between just being in the community and being an integral piece of the fabric of our community.

Membership in the Midstate Chamber provides important connections for our members, improving business and supporting the growth of our communities.

Membership also allows for valuable partnerships within and amongst fellow members AND with local and regional organizations, including, but certainly not limited to:

Our members are credible, reputable businesses that describe their chamber membership as the most important connection they can have with their community.

The Midstate Chamber of Commerce proudly serves and promotes our business members in Berlin, Cheshire, Meriden, Southington, Wallingford and throughout central Connecticut (CT).

Our Members are diverse in every way, ranging from small home-based businesses to large, regional entities.

We extend an invitation to ANY business in the region to join us. We also have members out-of-state who desire to align with us for our leadership and to garner market share in the central Connecticut area.

It's simple to join and for MANY small businesses the annual investment is less than $300 per year: WOW - that's less than $1 day - less than your morning cup of coffee!

- » Join by completing our online membership application - (<https://www.midstatechamber.com/Membership/default.asp>)
- » Stop by the office and meet with the friendly chamber team to initiate your enrollment
- » Join at our next event or mail in your application and payment

Why join? Businesses are motivated to join for a number of factors. Some of the top reasons include:

PROMOTION - stand out and get noticed in your community

EDUCATION - lifelong learning - on hot topics for your biz

LEADERSHIP & ADVOCACY - get things done & have a voice in key initiatives

NETWORKING - make valuable connections to grow your business

CREDIBILITY - build your reputation through membership

Three cheers.

A MESSAGE TO OUR READERS

Richard J. Pendred, Chairman, Midstate Chamber Board of Directors, Account Executive, A&A Office Systems
 Séan W. Moore, President, Midstate Chamber of Commerce

“These are a few examples of how this Chamber thinks regionally. Here regionalism is not just a buzzword and does not mean simply adding the name of a municipality to a website. At the Midstate Chamber, regionalism means actually delivering quality programming, supporting and promoting the activities in all of our member communities and beyond. We don’t simply imagine a vibrant region: we are actively working on it.”

Thank you for picking up the NEWEST edition of InSight, the Midstate Chamber of Commerce Magazine. Throughout this publication, you will find many outstanding examples of how we help keep our business members and residents well connected with each other, extremely visible to the world, very well educated and participating in their communities while we make history! We deliver on four solid promises we call our Four Pillars: Networking, Promotion, Education and Leadership and we’re the place “Where communities come together.”

We live in very exciting times. Like the communities of Berlin, Meriden and Wallingford, the Midstate Chamber is busy preparing for how we too will grow with the expanded “Hartford Line” rail service starting in 2018. The communities of Berlin, Meriden and Wallingford all have solid and active Transit Oriented Development (TOD) initiatives to encourage mixed-use development to revitalize their central business districts. We believe that the next few years will be transformational. Meriden has several private sector development commitments for over 650 new rental units and nearly 110,000 square feet of first floor commercial space coming on line. Wallingford has an active project boasting nearly 200 residential rental units in its Incentive Housing Zone (IHZ). The town is committed to work with the development community with TOD zoning allowing for up to 4 stories. Berlin has a new brewery & brew pub, a restaurant and retail development under construction in their TOD district. This high-level of activity should provide excellent opportunities for businesses to grow and expand in our region!

While our communities are building for the improved rail service coming in 2018, we at the Chamber are asking the questions “What does it mean for us when we go from 6 to 17 daily bi-directional trains, what will the business opportunities be for our members in central Connecticut and who will come?” We anticipate that we will soon be welcoming the Parkers, Workers and Walkers.

Parkers are people who drive into our TOD Districts and hop on the train during “peak” travel times to commute out of our local train stations. We want to be sure that they use the districts before they board the train in the morning. When they return at the end of a long working day, we know that they might be interested in some refreshments and entertainment in the district. Meriden, Berlin and Wallingford are building new parking facilities and intermodal stations to accommodate this audience!

The Workers are the crowds who regularly commute into our communities from other places. The rail will provide options for talented individuals and consumers from out of our area to get to our businesses and organizations for the great employment, shopping, dining and entertainment opportunities in the TOD district.

And finally, we believe that the Walkers are by far the most fascinating crowd. Walkers are individuals who live, play and sleep in the district. Often they will utilize the rail line to get to their places of employment and return back to make our communities vibrant, exciting and livable places. We are very excited that there are hundreds of new residential units currently in development. And we anticipate more commercial and residential development to be announced in the very near future!

The Midstate Chamber of Commerce, Inc.

THE FOUR PILLARS

We at the Midstate Chamber work on issues like housing, legislative agendas, cradle to career education, transportation and workforce development. These are all regional concerns and that's why we actively participate with many partners well beyond our municipal borders. We are constantly involved in looking for opportunities for our members to participate.

If you are interested in participating in this transformation, feel free to call the Midstate Chamber of Commerce and we'll get you connected.

VISION STATEMENT from the September 2016 CTNext Innovation Places Planning Grant Application

"Meriden will leverage our unique resources and take advantage of new affordable housing, open spaces and improved public transportation to attract an innovative and dynamic workforce and transform downtown Meriden and its recently rezoned Transit Oriented Development (TOD) District into a center of entrepreneurial activity and high-quality urban living. As the geographic center of Connecticut and as an emerging transportation hub we aspire to be the Innovation Place (IP) that connects the north/south hubs: Hartford and New Haven and potential east/west hubs: Middletown and Waterbury, as well as serving neighboring towns by offering attractive opportunities for housing, commerce and recreation downtown."

The dedicated staff and Board of Directors of the Midstate Chamber of Commerce along with numerous talented volunteers work tirelessly to deliver on four solid pledges: Promotion, Education, Leadership, and Networking to our members and the Central Connecticut business community. Quite often these focus areas overlap with each other and members find that our many events incorporate a piece of each pledge in everything that we do!

PROMOTION

Stand OUT and get NOTICED: our electronic and print programs in addition to our many events offer unique promotional values to Chamber members. Sponsorship packages for our major events and Breakfast Club Celebrates program are available for every business and any budget to gain additional exposure for our members! Our array of such opportunities are the main reasons why the Midstate Chamber does not operate as a charitable organization. Dues paid to a chamber of commerce may be treated as ordinary and necessary business expenses but are not charitable deductions because we actively promote our members.

A few examples of our EXCLUSIVE promotion options for members include:

- » WEBSITE: midstatechamber.com: member business listings Banner ads, Home Page ads and Internal page ad options on the ACTIVE web site (40,000+ unique visits each month)
- » InSight: The CHAMBER MAGAZINE: Annual Directory - Community Guide - Health & Wellness Resource
- » Annual Business EXPO AT THE DAFFODIL FESTIVAL
- » Monthly electronic Newsletter ads, inserts, member updates
- » E-MINDER SPONSORSHIPS - we email to 1,700+ weekly
- » And even more - call us for options or to design a package especially for you!

EDUCATION

Our Chamber supports life long learning (cradle to career) and the educational initiatives that run the spectrum from pre-K through 12th grade; college; professional development opportunities; adult education and beyond. We are involved in the education of our members and the education of students in our community...they are our future! The Midstate Chamber and our members are involved in career fairs, member education, professional development and more, including:

- » Member Education: Participation in Community Focus Groups and Forums, Workshops and Seminars, The Breakfast Club Celebrates, public meetings and information sessions and more!
- » Community / Student Education: School to Business Partnerships, Summer Youth Employment Program, Small Business Bootcamp, Member Presentations to Students in the Classroom, Education Awards for area students, Participation in Regional Career Fairs, and more.

NETWORKING

LEADERSHIP

Networking opportunities abound at the Midstate Chamber, making our organization a supportive system of sharing information and services among individuals and groups. This encourages new relationships and builds upon current ones to increase business opportunities. Membership in the Midstate Chamber is the best way to make connections for any business or organization - whether it is passing out business cards to introduce your business or connecting with individuals to increase your circle of influence, this IS the place to be! A few of our networking events include: Business Before Hours, Business After Hours, Annual Meeting & Dinner, Golf Tournament, Breakfast Club, Meet & Greets and more!

This Chamber takes a proactive role in moving, improving and positively changing the communities we serve. Through our regular participation, we cause results and help create a roadmap for our future. While connecting businesses to each other remains an important activity, much of our work on education, healthcare, transportation, workforce, legislative issues, economic development and community development sets this chamber and this community apart from many others. We inform and engage our staff and entire membership in the economic development, workforce development and business development projects in the areas we serve and in the central Connecticut region, including:

- » Representation on the Workforce Alliance, regional workforce development entity
- » MEDCO (Meriden Economic Dev. Corp.)
- » Plan of Conservation and Development
- » Representation on the board of the United Way of Meriden & Wallingford
- » New Haven-Hartford-Springfield Rail Implementation & TOD (Transit Oriented Development Initiatives)

CHAMBER COMMITTEES

The Midstate Chamber of Commerce is directed by its membership through representation on a variety of committees that shape the Chamber's goals, service methods and future initiatives for the membership and the community at large. ALL committees are OPEN - any member in good standing is welcome to join a chamber committee which is where the work is done and new programs are initiated to further strengthen our organization. The Midstate Chamber currently operates with the assistance of the following standing committees:

The Education Committee provides school to career opportunities for students of all ages, educators and businesses. It promotes business education and training partnerships in the central CT area. The committee also provides the continuity between projects and coordinates special events, like the Business Expo and Annual Dinner. The Education Awards Committee is responsible for the administration of the annual student awards: Sanford S. Shorr Award, HOLA Award, the Young Business Leaders' Dan M. Hunter Community Service Award and the Bruce H. Kannenberg & Jonal Laboratories Inc. Award. The awards are for area residents graduating from high school as well as for students returning for undergraduate and graduate studies. Applications are available in November of each year at area schools and at www.midstatechamber.com - under the Resources - Community Services tab. The Annual Awards Committee is responsible for reviewing the applications for the business and community leadership awards and selecting the recipients of these awards. All awardees are recognized at the Chamber's Annual Meeting in April. You'll find more information on chamber awards on pages 12 & 13.

The Government & Business Development Committee monitors local, state and federal legislative issues impacting business. They also consider programs to add value to Chamber members' investment. In addition, this committee creates the Chamber's Legislative Action Agenda and coordinates events like Legislative Breakfasts and Pizza, Pasta & Politics: events that directly connect our members with our elected officials!

The Marketing & Publicity Committee helps develop Chamber marketing materials that increase the visibility of the Midstate Chamber to members, prospective members and to the community. They assist with the chamber's marketing efforts and recommend content and oversee the publication of InSight, the CHAMBER MAGAZINE: Annual Membership Directory & Community Guide. Most recently, the committee played a vital role in creating the image for an electronic billboard, coined the term and marketing initiative "Chamber of Choice" and also played a key role in the chamber's video testimonial program and in upgrading our social media presence - especially with twitter and facebook!

www.facebook.com/MidstateCoC

@MidstateCoC

The Membership Committee develops, supports and enhances the membership efforts of The Midstate Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber Ambassadors make up the Membership Committee and are a team who serve as "liaisons" for the Chamber. These individuals have the critical role of retaining and increasing membership of the Midstate Chamber in the central CT region, in the communities of Berlin, Cheshire, Meriden, Southington, Wallingford and beyond. The group recently started a new program: Chamber Meet & Greet events to increase the visibility of the Midstate Chamber - they hold "pop-up" events throughout the area and prospective members are invited to get a true "feel" for this spectacular organization.

Summer Meet & Greet, July 2016 at Double Play Café, Yalesville

The Golf Committee begins work in January to plan, coordinate and execute all activities surrounding the annual tournament in June which raises funds for Chamber activities MOST IMPORTANTLY, the annual Sanford S. Shorr Education Awards. 2017 marks the tournament's 30th Year! To date, 138 area students have received awards (totaling over $100,000) to help them further their education!

Team Meriden Hyundai - 2016 Boardman Cup Champs (below): AWESOME prizes, food & fun at tourney

The Hispanic Outreach Leaders In Action Committee raises additional funds for education awards for students of Hispanic heritage. As a direct result of the group's annual fundraisers, 26 area students have each received $1,000 awards for their continuing education. HOLA was formed in 2005 with the following mission: To reach out & engage Hispanic individuals and businesses in Greater Meriden so that through the Chamber, they can obtain exposure, growth, and involvement in the community. Objectives include:

- » Encourage participation in the Chamber & Community & Improve business connections
- » Grow leadership from the Hispanic Community; Share success stories of the group
- » Promote Hispanic Heritage especially in October - Hispanic Heritage Month
- » Encourage / mentor youth by providing excellent Hispanic role models; & Have FUN!

The Young Business Leaders was formed in 2007 and members are engaged in community life, expanding professional and social opportunities and serve as ambassadors for the area. This group is geared toward professionals between the ages of 21 and 39 however the group welcomes people of all ages to attend their many events that include Speed Networking, community service events, professional development and social events, monthly meetings and even more! Their Miniature Golf Tournament is the main fundraiser for the Dan M. Hunter Community Service Education Award. The group has collected and donated, literally, tons of food for Meriden & Wallingford soup kitchens and pantries through the assistance of the United Way of Meriden & Wallingford.

The Annual Dinner Committee is a “short term” special events committee that organizes the Midstate Chamber’s Annual Meeting & Dinner, including the Silent Auction, theme and program.

The Health and Wellness Council was formed in 2008 and sponsors workshops, activities and many other events to support and raise awareness of health & wellness through the year. The council is dedicated to identifying and promoting best practices in community and employee health and wellness through advocacy for health care access, literacy, policy and programs. The council is OPEN to any and all businesses – for profit, not for profit, healthcare and non - healthcare. They meet the first Wednesday of every month at 8:30 a.m. Additional information on the council and its activities may be found in the special Health & Wellness Resource Section of this guide, beginning on page 25.

The Board of Directors is a diverse group of individuals made up of business leaders from different sectors to provide oversight to the Chamber’s program of work and set policy for our organization. The group, listed below, was inducted to serve at the 120th Annual Meeting & Dinner in April 2016. Many of them are featured in the photo on page 6!

MERIDEN BIZ

City of Meriden: Meriden is a great location for any business! Located at the intersection of Interstates 91 and 691, as well as the Merritt Parkway (Route 15) and Route 5, Meriden is at the “crossroads of Connecticut”. We are a 20-minute drive from both Hartford and New Haven in central Connecticut, and less than two hours from Boston and New York City. In 2018, the State of Connecticut will initiate commuter rail service along the New Haven-Hartford-Springfield rail corridor. Planned improvements for Meriden include a new rail station, boarding platforms, 300 new parking spaces, commuter rail service to Hartford and New Haven every 30 minutes and over 500 new housing units within walking distance to the rail station. Meriden's location in the center of the state makes it a great place to live and work.

We have a variety of incentive programs, a skilled workforce, great sites, and a professional team ready to help you with your relocation or expansion. Drop us an email or give us a call. We look forward to working with you! Find us online at www.meridenbiz.com or www.meriden2020.com.

STUDENT EDUCATION AWARDS

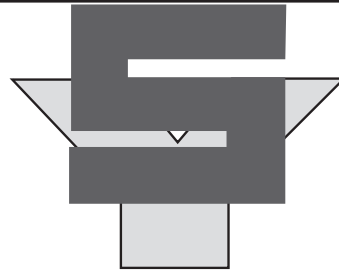

The Sanford S. Shorr Education Awards historically had been given to students that are Meriden residents who are graduating high school as well as students returning to college. These awards are in honor of Sanford S. Shorr, who served as Executive Vice President of The Midstate Chamber of Commerce for 29 years. The award winners exemplify the high values, outstanding character, and dedication to community service that have, and continue to, epitomize the life of Sanford S. Shorr. Proceeds from the Chamber's Annual Golf Tournament support these Education Awards. Over the past 27 years, over 118 awards have been presented to area residents for their pursuit of higher education.

In 2015, our Board of Directors voted to EXPAND the eligibility of the applicants. NOW, any Meriden resident may apply AND ALSO any Midstate Chamber member in good standing - employees and dependents may apply for the awards!

In 2006 we added an additional award from the Chamber's HOLA (Hispanic Outreach Leaders In Action) Committee that was formed in October 2005. Applicants must be Hispanic students graduating from high school or returning to college. Proceeds for this award are generated through fundraisers by the (Hispanic Outreach Leaders In Action) Committee.

In 2007 the Chamber's Young Business Leaders of Connecticut were born. YBLCT members are engaged in community life, are interested in expanding professional and social opportunities and serve as ambassadors for the greater Meriden area. The group created the Dan M. Hunter Community Service Education Award in 2009 - it is given annually to a graduating high school student who shows exemplary grades, above average participation in school-related activities and has proven to be a valued asset to his/her community.

In 2015, Bruce H. Kannenberg & Jonal Laboratories, Inc. Education Award was added. This 4 year award for $1,000 per year is for a Meriden resident graduating from a Meriden Public School who will be pursuing a degree in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) or Business.

ABOUT THE REGION

Meriden is a thriving, diverse and growing community with a population of approximately 61,000 and has an area of 24 square miles. It is 17 miles from Hartford, 18 miles from New Haven, 90 miles from New York and 120 miles from Boston. It is at the crossroads of routes 91, 15, 5 and I-691.

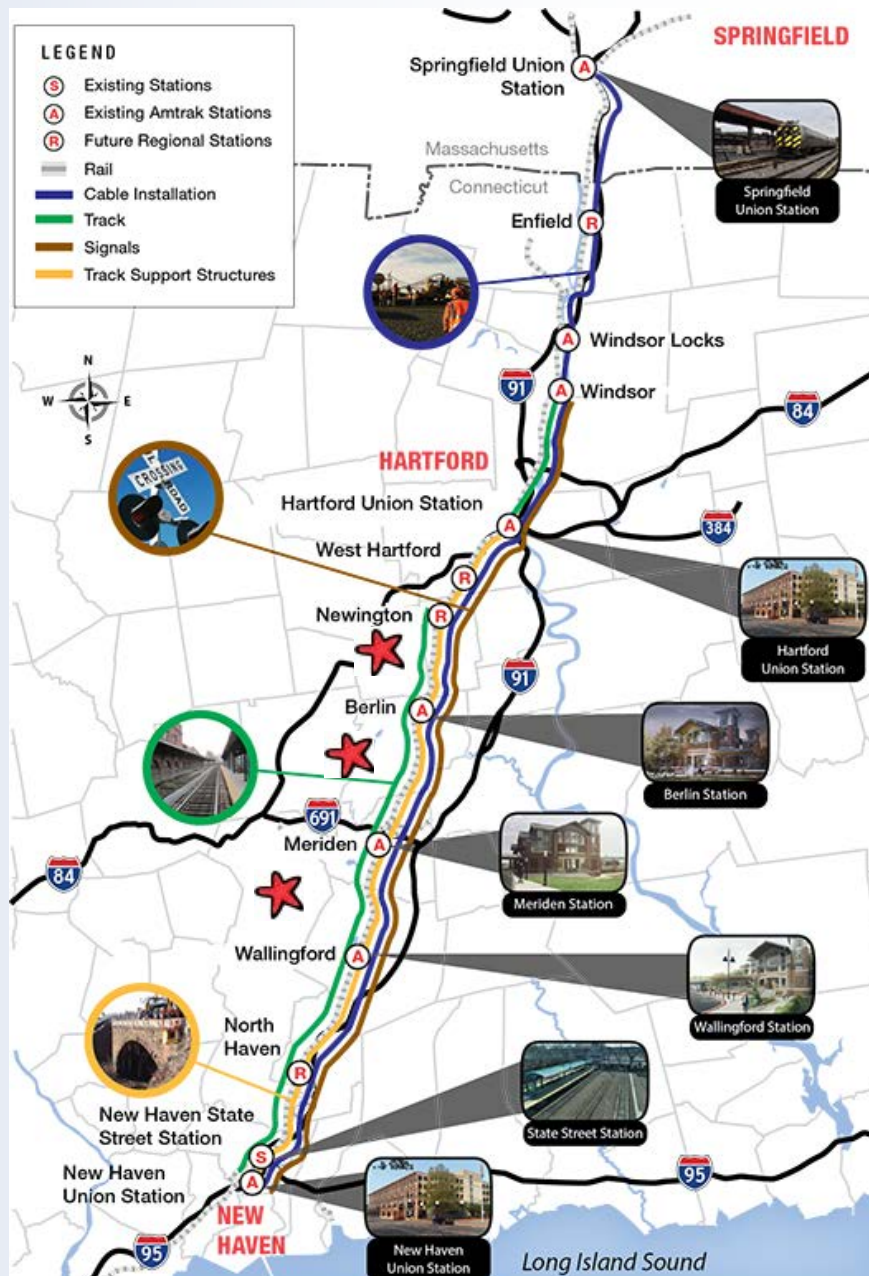

Wallingford is located just south of Meriden and is home to over 45,000 residents. The Town of Wallingford covers an area of 39.8 square miles. Situated in the Hartford-New Haven corridor, Wallingford is traversed by U.S. Highway Route 5, Interstate 91, State Highways Route 15 (Wilbur Cross Parkway), Route 68, Route 71 and Route 150.

Berlin, Connecticut, the home of “The Yankee Peddler”, is located at the geographic center of the state. It has a population of around 20,000 within its 26 square miles. Meriden and Berlin share the “hanging hills” which provide for excellent hiking.

The area shares a local daily newspaper, the Record-Journal. In addition, other regional papers, include the Hartford Courant and New Haven Register. Meriden has a radio station, WMMW (AM) and is the city of license for WKSS-FM. CT Public Radio, WNPR – FM90.5, broadcasts from West Peak in Meriden.

The civic vitality in the city is also reflected in its various clubs neighborhood associations and organizations and houses of worship. Among the various groups countless opportunities exist for community service, worship, education, recreation and enjoyment. Support of these groups is critical, since much of their work and fundraising is directed back into the area.

The area offers a wide variety of accommodations, from affordable rents to reasonably priced condos to elegant homes for purchase. For individuals seeking desirable communities in which to live, central Connecticut affords excellent opportunities.

ABOUT MERIDEN, CT

The town of Meriden was founded in May 1806 and then became a City in June 1867. Meriden was originally part of Wallingford. In 1727, it was granted a separate meetinghouse. It was named for the town of Meriden, West Midlands, England or myth has it that it was named after the Merry Den Tavern that was located near present day Route 5. Meriden covers 24.1 square miles with several prominent peaks surrounding the city. The oldest house still standing is the Solomon Goffe house built in 1711. In the 1800s Meriden earned the nickname "Silver City" due to the large number of cutlery and related products which were manufactured here by several companies including International Silver and Meriden Cutlery.

ABOUT WALLINGFORD, CT

The town of Wallingford was established on May 12, 1670. In the 1800s, Wallingford's industry expanded primarily with small pewter and Britannia ware manufacturers.

By mid-century, Robert Wallace acquired the formula for nickel silver and established with Samuel Simpson, R. Wallace & Company the forerunner of Wallace Silversmiths. Later during this period many of the small silver and Britannia plants combined to form the International Silver Company with its headquarters in Meriden and several plants in Wallingford. Wallingford covers 39.8 square miles and is the 23rd most populous community of Connecticut's 169 cities and towns.

ABOUT BERLIN, CT

In 1659, Sergeant Richard Beckley purchased 300 acres from the Mattabasset Indians to become the first settler in what was to become Berlin. Other families followed in 1686 from Farmington to begin the first settlement on Christian Lane. In 1785 the Town was incorporated and was renamed Berlin (was known as Kensington on the west side and Worthington on the east side. New Britain was part of Berlin until 1850). In the middle of the 18th century, emigrants from Ireland set up the first winware business pedaling their wares from house to house. Therefore Berlin became the birth place of "The Yankee Peddler". In 1886, the State Legislature granted a charter for what became the Berlin Fair to be held annually in the first weekend in October. The Town council-Town Manager form of government was instituted with a charter revision in 1995-96. For more Berlin, CT history, visit: www.town.berlin.ct.us/category/subcategory.php?categoryid=14

A SPECTACULAR LOCATION

The City of Meriden and the neighboring towns of Berlin and Wallingford are perfectly positioned for Transit Oriented Development (TOD).

Our communities sit at the crossroads of routes I-91, Route 15, U.S. Route 5 and I-691, and minutes away from I-84 and Route 9. Commercial bus service provides daily service to most of the East Coast. In conjunction with the local transit districts, Connecticut Transit operates multiple local routes with easy connections to New Haven, Hartford, North Haven, New Britain and Middletown.

AMTRAK currently provides reliable passenger rail service. The New Haven-Hartford-Springfield commuter rail project, now officially branded as "The Hartford Line," is on target for a start of service date of 2018 and will include 17 round trips between New Haven and Hartford. Berlin, Meriden and Wallingford have new train stations under construction - all with high-level platforms, pedestrian overpasses, parking, and other amenities.

This singular rail project is already serving as a catalyst for development in our region. Meriden has adopted hybrid Form Based Code zoning regulations, Wallingford has rolled out an Incentive Housing Zone and Berlin has adopted a restaurant zone. These are just a few of the many new tools and incentives that each municipality can offer to support economic development in our region. As we work together, our entire region will benefit.

We are only 40 minutes away from Bradley International Airport (www.bradleyairport.com). Bradley (BDL) is New England's second-largest airport that serves as the gateway to the entire Northeast. Tweed New Haven Airport (www.flytweed.com) is only 30 minutes away. Tweed (HVN) offers a convenient no hassle option for Southern Connecticut travelers. In addition, Meriden and Wallingford share the Meriden-Markham Municipal airport (www.airnav.com/airport/KMMK) providing charter flights, flight instruction, aircraft rental and aircraft sales. This facility serves the needs of local business persons as well as the recreational flyers.

CITY OF MERIDEN | OFFICE OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The City of Meriden is making significant progress on advancing private Transit Oriented Development on several City-owned sites in downtown Meriden. These development plans include over 500 new housing units, 100,000 square feet of non-residential space and a $125 million private investment within the next five years. One of the key, stand out projects is the Meriden Green.

The “Meriden Green” is a 14-acre flood control/park and economic development project located in the heart of downtown Meriden, CT. The $14 million project is a key component of Meriden’s downtown transformation, which includes an unprecedented amount of private, local, state, and federal investment in the areas of flood control infrastructure, brownfield remediation, transportation and housing. The Meriden Green, formerly known as the “Hub” site, includes several key features including a public park with gathering places and links to the regional greenway system, pedestrian links to the new transit center, an amphitheater and great lawn area for public events, and a daylighted Harbor Brook. The site is designed to detain floodwaters during major storm events and also includes 3 acres for private development located above the 100 year floodplain. Pennrose Properties LLC has been selected by the City to redevelop three acres of the site and their vision includes “Meriden Commons”, a three-phased, 225,000 square foot mixed use development at State and Mill Streets and along Pratt Street. Construction is expected to commence in 2017.

Additional projects coming online very soon include:

- 21 Colony Street - an adaptive re-use project - 12 residential units & 6,000 sq. ft. ground floor commercial space
- 116 Cook Avenue/Factory H (104 Butler Street/77 Cooper Street) - mixed use residential and commercial
- 143 West Main Street - mixed use entertainment, residential and commercial

Since its inception in the 1800s, central Connecticut has a strong, diversified business community. Our manufacturing sector has a wide variety of products, including aircraft / communication equipment, engine gaskets, and nuclear instrumentation, specialty metals, medical equipment to premier confections and specialty food manufacturing. Our ideal location attracts diverse businesses and their employees.

Connecting the communities of Meriden and Wallingford is Research Parkway, an industrial, research and development and office area. The area consists of approximately 1,000 acres of land (half in Meriden and half in Wallingford) along a three mile section of Route 91. This roadway is home to a number of national and international companies.

An abundant supply of natural gas and electric energy is available to provide power for businesses and industries on a large scale. Wired and wireless communication services are plentiful including multi-carrier cell towers as well as satellite, wired broadband, DSL and multiple public and private wireless internet access sites. Service sector jobs are plentiful in central Connecticut utilizing our excellent communication services.

A variety of educational and training services are available that offer unique collaborations with area businesses and schools. These partnerships provide workforce development and customized training including specialized manufacturing training as well as high-tech computer training for school-to-career students or adults seeking new careers in the new economy. The Meriden and Wallingford Adult Education Programs, Middlesex Community College Meriden Center, Post University Accelerated Degree Programs, Stone Academy, Lincoln College of New England and the Workforce Alliance / American Job Center are just a few of these resources available to area residents and businesses.

Central Connecticut also has a great variety of public, private and regional magnet schools that are most welcoming to the children of the families who work in the areas.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS,
Dr. Mark D Benigni

Thank you for all of your support! I am proud of our students and honored to be your Superintendent of Schools. As a lifelong Meriden resident, a product of the Meriden Public Schools and a parent of two Meriden Public School students, I care deeply about our students, staff, and school system. It is my responsibility to help provide each and all of our students with opportunities to fulfill their hopes and dreams, to give every child a chance for a better life. The Meriden Public Schools provided me with an outstanding education that gave me opportunities to fulfill so many of my dreams. As your educational leader, I am committed to making sure that all of our students and staff take charge of their learning and get positive results. At graduation, we want all students to be college and career ready.

The Meriden Public Schools has much of which to be proud. We offer three expanded learning time elementary schools. These schools provide one hundred minutes of additional learning and enrichment every day. We also successfully launched Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) Guidelines that are allowing our students to utilize their own devices. In addition, this past year our middle and high schools, as well as John Barry Elementary School, are one-to-one learning environments, where all students receive school-issued devices. The Meriden Public Schools received a prestigious National School Board Association's Magna Award, the first school district in Connecticut to receive this recognition in the last fifteen years. The Meriden Public Schools were also recognized as a District of Distinction by District Administration.

Board of Education policies, as well as our Program of Studies, have been revised to reflect our movement to student-centered learning. New courses and personalized learning experiences have been added to our core course offerings. Our middle schools now provide courses for our students to earn high school credits and our high schools continue to allow numerous opportunities for our students to earn college credits. Our students continue to demonstrate increased performance on academic and behavioral indicators. This is truly a credit to our hardworking students, dedicated staff, and engaged families.

We are committed to working with students, parents, teachers, staff, administrators, Board of Education members, City officials, service providers, and all community members who can help us support our children's dreams and desires. In order for our students to be most successful, parents must be active partners in their child's education. Together, we can provide an education that successfully meets the needs and goals of all our students.

I look forward to working with our students, staff, families, and community. I am proud to be your Superintendent of Schools, and I am excited to continue to make the Meriden Public Schools a model of public education success. I am inspired by our students and confident that they will continue to impress us with their performance in the classroom, on the athletic field, in our theaters, and in their volunteerism in the community. In the Meriden Public Schools, we take charge of learning and we get positive results!

RREAL is an acronym for Recreation, Entertainment, Arts, and Leisure. REAL illustrates the quality of life in our central Connecticut communities, reinforcing the fact that it is a great place to live, a terrific place to play and a wonderful place to raise a family. You can use this Membership Directory and Community Guide or visit the Chamber web site for the current listing of the Chamber members that are here to partner with our residents and visitors to help you make memories to last a lifetime!

PARKS & RECREATION...Meriden's outstanding system of parks and open space is one of the finest in the entire state. With over 3,000 acres of park land, the total percentage of Meriden's land devoted to parks is 17.6%, and no other city in New England can match that! The city's scenic location offers infinite opportunities to enjoy the beauties of the outdoors. East Peak/West Peak, the mountain on which Castle Craig is situated, is the highest elevation within 25 miles of the coastline from Cadillac Mountain in Maine to Florida. Castle Craig rises 1,002 feet above sea level and offers a spectacular view of the area, and on a clear day, even the Sleeping Giant Mountain range to the south, along with New Haven, Long Island Sound and the edge of Long Island may be seen. The Castle Craig Tower atop the peak is a regional landmark and is the silhouette in The Midstate Chamber of Commerce Logo. Castle Craig is located inside Hubbard Park.

Hubbard Park, built with consultants from John Olmstead, the step son of Frederick Law Olmstead, who designed Central Park in New York City, is one of the loveliest in New England. The park covers 1,800 acres and offers skating in the winter on Mirror Lake, tennis courts, a pavilion, swings and playground equipment for children, hiking, Bandshell, swimming pool, outdoor education and picnic facilities. Hubbard Park is the scene of wonderful seasonal activities, including the Daffodil Festival in April, when 600,000 daffodils display their spectacular beauty. This event draws visitors from throughout New England and beyond. Several events are scheduled year round in the park - even in December, when, during the Festival of Lights, the park is aglow with thousands of lights fashioned into fantastic sculptures. Outdoor music concerts at the James J. Barry Bandshell are often presented free of charge and offer a variety of music to suit every taste.

The city also offers 15 public parks and 15 playgrounds, picnic grounds with fireplaces, a Municipal golf course, 10 tennis courts, 30 ball fields, 9 basketball courts, 1 public swimming pool, and 2 stadiums. Falcon Field received a $4 million reconstruction, with artificial turf making it a state of the art facility for football, soccer and more. The Quinnipiac River Linear Walking Trail is a spectacular place to walk starting at Red Bridge and ending near the Meriden/Cheshire town line; phase II was completed in 2013 with another 1.2 miles extending behind Wilcox and Platt High Schools.

ARTS, CULTURE & ENTERTAINMENT...

Meriden is a community with a wealth of cultural opportunities offering performances, shows, exhibits, night-life and cultural events.

The Castle Craig Theatre, home of Castle Craig Players, located in downtown Meriden, is a popular center for the arts offering performance year-round. Our communities' schools and youth agencies, including the YMCAs, Spanish Community of Wallingford, Boys and Girls Clubs, Women and Families Center, Girls Inc. of Central Connecticut, offer educational, recreational, training and performance opportunities as well as after school and summer programs.

The Augusta Curtis Cultural Center is a rare jewel of a building. Originally Meriden's library, this over 100+ year-old marble, Greek-revival building offers three floors of gracious space that magically turns into performance, exhibit and special event space throughout the year.

The Public Libraries offer year-round exhibits of local interest, historical interest and of course, literary interest.

Meriden also offers an ample selection of support services for the Arts & Culture, including Gallery 53 - Arts & Crafts Association of Meriden that offers art shows, receptions, classes and a whole lot more and Wepa Art Studio offering paint nights and a venue for creative parties! Historical homes are a highlight including the 1711 Solomon Goffe House, the Andrews Homestead, and the Meriden Historical Society.

SHOPPING... Whether you are a casual shopper, or a connoisseur with extraordinary interests, you will be delighted with the variety of retail stores. Westfield Meriden is the regional shopping mall with more than 150 boutiques, jewelers, and other specialty stores. Route 5 and 15 is our main retail boulevard that is the "main drag" in Wallingford, continues with retail through Meriden and becomes the Berlin Turnpike in Berlin. Numerous other sites from local malls to Wallingford Center complete the diverse suite of offerings. C-Town Supermarket made downtown Meriden their home in 2014 and specialty markets like Noack's Meat Products and V. Czapiaga & Son offer the best in local specialties and groceries at affordable prices. All chocolate lovers know of the superior quality and selection at Thompson Chocolate.

DINING & LODGING... The area's diversity is reflected in the many dining opportunities the region has to offer. From authentic Spanish cuisine to world famous steamed cheeseburgers, we have it all. Enjoy breakfast at one of our hometown eateries or choose freshly made pastries from a family run bakery. Many fast food options allow for lunch on the run, or for a more leisurely paced visit one of our many fine restaurants. For business functions, select from convention facilities or one of our excellent caterers. Central CT has something for every palate and price range! Chamber member restaurants, delis, and other food providers may be found in this directory and on www.midstatechamber.com! Lodging facilities comprise a range of accommodations from economy class motels to full-service conference centers. All are easily accessible along major highways with professional staff eager to assist you, whether you're looking for a romantic getaway, planning a wedding or hosting a conference. From overnight stays to extended lodging, visitors can find accommodations suitable to their every need.

“OFFICIAL” REGIONAL CONTACTS

The Midstate Chamber of Commerce provides access and forums to meet one on one and in groups with our elected officials on the local, state and federal level. We work with our elected officials and staff to merge the business interests with those of the municipalities and the region. Some examples include:

- We are the business eyes, ears and voice at City Council and Committee meetings.
- We track business legislation in Hartford and Washington, DC.
- We offer Candidate Forums, Legislative Breakfasts, “Pizza, Pasta and Politics” and other special events to provide our members with access to politicians and legislative leaders in the region.

Below is a list of the state and federal legislators that represent our communities. Local contacts may be found on pages 16-17.

Chairwoman, Midstate Chamber
Health & Wellness Council

The Midstate Chamber of Commerce formed its Health & Wellness Council in 2008. The group is comprised of Chamber members from a range of industries all with a stake in healthcare and a desire to improve the availability of resources and the quality of care offered in the central Connecticut region. All are invited to join us in assisting in achieving our mission.

MISSION:

We are dedicated to identifying and promoting best practices in community and employee health and wellness through advocacy for healthcare access, literacy, policy and programs.

With rising healthcare costs and a population that is increasingly burdened by a variety of medical conditions, health promotion and disease prevention is the best way to take a proactive step in encouraging others to lead a healthy lifestyle, which will:

reduce employee absenteeism

create an overall healthier workforce

In order to do this, the Health & Wellness Council provides added educational opportunities, events and resources for its member businesses so that business leaders can make informed decisions about the direction of healthcare for their employees. The trickle-down effect that this creates results in enormous benefits for you, your employees, and the greater community. To date the council is proud to report several successes over the years, including:

Healthy Brain, Body, Business Competition

Health, Wellness & Safety EXPO

This region is also home to many more healthcare facilities that offer a range of services to the community. From the Community Health Center, offering comprehensive primary and preventive healthcare for adults and children, full dental services and grant funded dental services - to an array of facilities for our elderly population, like assisted living assistance and retirement communities. Nursing homes offer extended care and short term rehabilitation and comfort for those recovering from surgeries or who find themselves unable to live on their own. A number of home care agencies in the community offer quality home care to individuals that need assistance after surgery, hospitalization or illness.

This section: a special addition to the Chamber's Annual Directory & Community Guide - the Health and Wellness Resource Section will provide you with information on the Midstate Chamber's Health & Wellness Council, general resources, workplace wellness ideas and more. TECHNOLOGY IN HOMECARE & CHOOSING A HOMECARE AGENCY

A patient is rushed to the Emergency Department because he forgot to take his medication or took it twice, a woman falls getting out of bed because she forgets to use her walker, or worse, a fire starts in the kitchen because a pot was left on the hot stove.

According to the National Safety Council (NSC), Americans 75 years and older use hospital emergency rooms about twice as often as any other age group and more than 25,000 older adults die from unintentional falls each year.

One local home care company saw firsthand what impacts seniors and individuals with disabilities and special needs the most: falls, personal safety, medication compliance, and wandering, and knew there had to be affordable, technological devices that could help with these issues and allow people to still live independently, but remain safer in their own homes. Assisted Living Technologies, Inc., was established in 2010 to provide primarily wireless, sensor-based products as a complement to its home care services, of which Ron D'Aquila RN is President and co-founder.

A report by agingstats.gov projects that by 2030, when all surviving baby boomers will be over 65, there will be 72 million seniors representing 20 percent of the population.

Assisted Living Technologies, Inc. has recognized that the use of technology will become crucial as the U.S. is faced with an increasing number of seniors and an impending shortage of caregivers. The CT Department of Developmental Services, Department of Social Services, their providers and contracted agencies, and the Connecticut Home Care Program for Elders are just a few of the agencies the company works with as well as private clients that seek their technologies. The company opened the first and only showroom in Connecticut (located in Meriden) for caregivers to experience hands-on demonstrations of the newest technological solutions.

There are two basic types of homecare providers in Connecticut: Medical & Non-medical. Generally Medical agencies provide home health care, such as nursing, and often clients requiring such services are in a more acute stage of illness. Typically these agencies are referred to as VNA's (Visiting Nurse Associations) and are usually Medicare certified and must also be licensed with the State Health Department and meet stringent regulatory requirements. The second type of agency is Non-medical, providing support services to clients such as homemaking, companionship, Live-in Services and Personal Care Services. Non-medical homecare agencies must be registered with the State of CT. Department of Consumer Protection. The focus of this information is to assist you in narrowing down your choices in screening and selecting a Non-medical homecare agency or service.

- Search the phone book or on the web under homecare, home health care, or elder care. Visit www.cthealthcareathome.org or contact Midstate Chamber to refer you to a local agency.

- Agency on Aging of South Central Connecticut (203-785-8533) also has a website for referrals to provider agencies and discounts on rates at www.carenetworklink.org. or Connecticut Community Care, Inc. (tel. 860-314-2933). Most reputable agencies will have a contractual relationship with them for certain services.

- Ask health care professionals or others who frequently have contact with these types of agencies - such as discharge planners at hospitals, nursing homes, rehabilitation facilities, and social workers.

ASK Questions: How long they have been in business & how many caregivers does the agency employ? Are the staff bonded and insured? Are they available 24/7? How is the staff screened? What are the fees? Review the contract closely. Is the business registered with the Department of Consumer Protection?

Finally, there are funding sources to help with home care. In CT, you can contact the Department of Social Services to find out if you qualify for the Connecticut Home Care Program for Elders: 1-800-445-5394. There is an option for Veterans called the Veterans Aide and Attendance Program - to access information about this program ask an Elder Law Attorney or contact the Connecticut Department of Veterans' Affairs Office.

WORKPLACE WELLNESS TIPS | WEB APPS

In addition to the Chamber's Health & Wellness section of www.midstatechamber.com which includes links to local, state and federal resources, we've listed a variety of resources below as suggested by the Chamber's Health & Wellness Council and the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services. Workplace wellness programs run the spectrum from simple postings for employees or reminders in common employee areas, to friendly competitions, to more formal programs that motivate employees to live healthier. The possibilities are endless, in terms of what program you might offer in your workplace, and below are a few simple, general suggestions. And, a number of web applications - or WEB APPS - are available for health and wellness activities and programs from meal tracking to weight loss, to wellness events and fairs, to workplace wellness, to cooking and mental health - the spectrum is varied and wide! These apps, many which are free or low cost, make it easy to incorporate health and wellness into everyday activities.

- ◇ Form a Wellness Committee at your office
- ◇ Hold "healthy meetings" with healthy snacks
- ◇ Make water available to employees
- ◇ Post a list of healthy eateries close to the office
- ◇ Hold "walking meetings"
- ◇ Provide screenings: cholesterol, blood pressure, etc.
- ◇ Encourage employees to take stairs vs. elevator
- ◇ Give employees pedometers to track their steps
- ◇ Post walking tips in stairwells
- ◇ Incorporate "stretch breaks" into meetings
- ◇ Offer rewards—financial or other—for employees who engage in healthy behavior and activities.
- ◇ Invite speakers to lead sessions on cooking healthy meals, staying healthy while travelling, or quick stress management skills.
- ◇ Invite yoga, tai chi, zumba, or aerobics instructors for lunchtime classes.
- ◇ Promote preventive care: Bring vaccinations to the workplace for flu season. Encouraging and even funding vaccinations for employees has one of the clearest returns on investment!
- ◇ Encourage exercise: offer discounts / subsidize memberships to a local gym or exercise club.
- ◇ Display a wellness board in the break area with a different theme each month!
- ◇ Post nutritional information on vending machines; BETTER: provide HEALTHY vending choices!
- ◇ Offer an employee assistance program for employees who have financial troubles, stress, substance abuse or depression symptoms.
- ◇ Provide Resources for Employees on Health and Wellness Topics: Check with YOUR Midstate Chamber of Commerce!

"I believe the second half of one's life is meant to be better than the first half. The first half is finding out how to do it. And the second half is enjoying it."
